BURTS

TWO SURGEONS KILLED BY SLIDE

Ketchikan, Alaska, Sept. 12.—Two surgeons attached to the Canadian boundary survey were killed last Saturday when a land slide destroyed their camp at Cape Mussen, Dall Is.

and, according to word received here today. The names of the men were given as Roberts or Robertson and Bader.

The party has been working on the boundary survey up Portland canal and Dixon entrance all summer maintaining camps at Cape Mussen and Cape Chacon. The two men had not shown up for several days, so a prospector went to investigate and found a immense slide had started from the top of the mountain, tearing down the mountain and cut into the bay 100 feet and in several places for a width of more than 100 feet. No trace could be seen of the former camp.

He hastened to the town of Sulzer to secure help and send word here. The launch Rough Rider left this afternoon for the scene with assistance.

PRESIDENT SEES DAUGHTER ACT

Meriden, N. H., Sept. 12.—President Wilson sat in a grove of pine trees yesterday afternoon and saw his youngest daughter, Miss Eleanor, play the star role in a pastoral masque symbolizing the protest of the naturalist against the slaughter of birds for millinery purposes.

With a dramatic skill which surprised her closest friends, as it was her first attempt, Miss Wilson voiced in song and appealing tones the spirit of the bird lover exhorting the hunter to forsake his rifle.

The sharp crack of a gun, followed by the sudden fall of "Ornis, the bird spirit," Miss Wilson's role, marked the climax of the piece. Wounded and sobbing, "Ornis" is consoled by the fauns, poet, dryad and naturalist, who dissuade the repentant plume hunter and make of him a bird lover. The president's daughter spoke her lines with careful expression and was enthusiastically applauded.

Those in the audience, composed entirely of artists, poets, playwrights and literary folk from Cornish and the surrounding hills, were costumed in various-colored gowns and coats and sat on rough wooden benches fixed on the slope of a hill at the foot of which was a stage. This was marked by logs behind which colored footlights threw a shadowy light on the encircling pines. Bird whistles and the incidental strains of an orchestra concealed in the trees and an occasional dance by the players lightened the piece, which was written by Percy MacKaye.

As a prelude to the performance, Miss Margaret Wilson, oldest daughter of the president, sang "The Hermit Thrush." At the conclusion of the play Herlet Adams presented on behalf of the artists and members of the Meriden Bird club to Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, patron of the performance, a parchment scroll in dedication of the bird sanctuary where the play was given.

Besides the president and Mrs. Wilson the presidential party consisted of Miss Jessie Wilson, second daughter, and her fiancée, Francis B. Sayres, and several hundred guests.

SIX MEN BURNED IN AN EXPLOSION

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 12.—A score of men were burned, six seriously, in a series of explosions that shattered the walls of the Clover Leaf Milling company's plant here early today. Fire followed the explosions and the elevator and flour mill were destroyed with a loss of $200,000.

The explosion in many respects resembled the dust explosion in the Husted mill last June when a number of workmen were killed.

CANAL WILL CAUSE CRISIS

Chicago, Sept. 13.—A crisis in the relations between the United States and Japan will be reached at the completion of the Panama canal, according to Captain Philip Bunau-Varilla of Paris, who was engineer for two years of the French company which undertook to dig the big ditch. He left Chicago today for Vancouver, B. C., and will visit the canal before he returns to Europe.

The equilibrium of power on the Pacific coast will be destroyed by the canal," asserted the engineer. "The United States will be made stronger and Japan will be weakened. The Japanese are a proud people and they regret to see your people dominate the Pacific, despite the commercial advantages the canal will give them. There is a strong resentment among the people there; they say America demands the open door in the orient and the closed door at home. There is grave danger of a serious situation developing, although I hope it will not."

The captain asserted the Panama canal will carry a traffic three or four times larger than the Suez canal can ever hope to gather. He said that in twenty years the annual tonnage would total fifty million, all that the locks can handle.

TO CARE FOR FOREIGNERS

United States Consular Officers in Mexico Will Afford the Same Protection to Citizens of Other Countries as They Do to Americans

Washington, Sept. 12.—Europeans and other foreigners, as well as Americans, may find refuge with United States consular officers in Mexico. The state department has ordered those officials to extend the same protection to foreigners as they would to Americans, in anticipation of such requests as have been received from China, Switzerland, Spain and some other governments. In that way it is expected to reduce to a minimum any grounds for demands for intervention. The transport Buford, now down the Pacific coast of Mexico, for refugees, has been ordered to give accommodation to all foreigners.

One hundred Americans and eighty other foreigners, making their way from Torreon to Monterey, en route to the United States, are having a dangerous journey because of the bad condition of the roads. The party is under the direction of Consul General Allen and plans to embark at Tampico. About a hundred Americans still remain in the vicinity of Torreon.

Federal General Bravo at Torreon is endeavoring to re-open the railroad to Mexico City to obtain provisions. According to advices received from Consul Hanna at Monterey, the epidemic at Torreon is passing.

Counsel General Shankling, at Mexico City, reported that communication with Chihuahua, Ciudad Porfirio Diaz, Juarez, Durango, Ensenada and Hermosillo, Lapaz, Matamoros, and Nogales had been temporarily suspended.

The transport Buford enroute to San Francisco from Guaymas, is bringing American refugees from Pacific Mexico ports.

SOMEBODY GOT SHRINERS' GOAT

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 12.—Members of Osmen Temple, Order of the Mystic Shrine, who recently returned from the Isthmus of Panama after losing their goat in New Orleans, will make another pilgrimage. They will leave here on September 27 for Philadelphia to conduct a ceremonial on October 1. It is announced that another goat has been secured for the occasion.

LEAD PRIMITIVE LIFE FOR DISEASE

Banning, Cal., Sept. 1.—In the heat of the desert, 50 miles from civilization, two men are leading the simple life in an attempt to conquer tuberculosis. They are George Wallace, a rancher of Redlands, Cal., and Dr. Gordon Lewis, a London dentist. At last reports they were gaining strength and were confident they would get well.

Bearded like patriarchs, their hair grown a foot long and their bodies lined brown by the sun, the two are living a thoroughly primitive existence. They have no shelter and wear no clothes whatever. Their food is chiefly game killed in the desert, stew made of desert herbs, goat's milk and occasionally nuts obtained from a national forest some miles away. Daily they take long walks through the vast stretches of shimmering hot sand. They have stood unpropped through cloudbursts and never a symptom of a cold developed.

Intermountain Timestest Co., Delta, Utah, Jan. 20, 1913.

Gentlemen:

We have used Timestest and are thoroughly satisfied with it. We had our cars with demountable rims filled and expect to have our other cars filled with it when we bring them in in the spring.

As far as we can see Timestest is just as resilient as air. It more than pays for itself in inner tubes and the savings wear longer. And, of course, the puncture trouble is entirely eliminated.

Altogether we are more than satisfied and heartily recommend Timestest to every car owner.

I have heard that Timestest would crystallize the axle but this is absolutely false as our cars have not shown any bad effects from the use of Timestest, and we find that the gasoline consumption is much less.

Very truly yours,

W. H. Bessler.

P. S.

There are several cars down here and I have been boosting Timestest to them and if you will give me the agency for Millard County I will do some business for you in the spring.

FURNITURE AND ITS MAKERS

"Learn One Thing Every Day"

No. 6. GEORGE HEPPLEWHITE

Copyright, 1913, by The Mentor Association, Inc.

Although there are scores of experts who will point to a piece of furniture and say, "That is a Hepplewhite," there is in fact not a single authentic example of this man's work. He did, however, publish a book, "The Cabinet Maker and Upholsterer's Guide, or Repository of Design for Every Article of Household Furniture in the Newest and Most Approved Taste," on which his reputation rests. This book went through three editions in 1788, two years after the author's own death.

George Hepplewhite was one of the great names in furniture making. The designs in his book are characterized by comfort rather than artificiality. With this is combined great technical excellence and extreme lightness and durability. Curiously, however, these designs are not all of equal value. Some are as good as the best work of any era, while others are most commonplace.

Before Hepplewhite's time the sideboard had been used as an ornament only. He made it useful as well, by giving to it the functions of the old time buffet.

Although even at that time tea cost five dollars a pound, its use had become very popular throughout England. Hepplewhite introduced many articles that had to do with the tea service. Many peculiarly constructed and choice urn stands, tea trays, chests, and caddies are attributed to him.

Hepplewhite's furniture had an interesting characteristic. The legs tapered delicately on the inside faces only, and were finished with a ball store.

Every day a different human interest story will appear in the Standard. You can get a beautiful intaglio reproduction of the above picture, with five others, equally attractive, 7 1/2 inches in size, with this week's "Mentor." In "The Mentor" a well known authority covers the subject of the pictures and stories of the week. Readers of the Standard and the Mentor will know art, literature, history, science, and travel, and own exquisite pictures. On sale at Spargo's Book store.
